

WILL WELCOME BATTLESHIP FLEET

City of San Francisco Is Now Fully Prepared.

DECORATIONS ARE GORGEOUS

Flags, Pennants and Streamers Flutter Everywhere—Plan of Illumination One of the Most Elaborate Ever Attempted on the Pacific Coast.

San Francisco, May 4.—In eager expectancy and with everything in readiness, San Francisco is awaiting the arrival of the Atlantic battleship fleet.

Fluttering flags, navy pennants and streamers, and Rear Admiral Evans' picture are everywhere. Market street is a long vista of bunting in the national colors and flags waving from white poles fifty feet high, every 100 feet, one large and a cluster of five smaller flags flying from each one, and terminating in the huge red, white and blue shield on the tall ferry tower. On each side of the tower, stretched on long wire cables, are the words "Welcome to the Atlantic Fleet," in the kaleidoscopic colors of the international navy signal code flags and pennants, while on Telegraph hill the word "Welcome" stands in letters fifty feet high, which can be read for many miles, and which at night will be illuminated by 2,500 electric lights. Festoons of incandescent lights run on both sides of the principal streets and prominent buildings are outlined in electric bulbs, furnishing at night a most magnificent illumination.

It is estimated that there will be between 700,000 and 800,000 persons in San Francisco on the day the fleet arrives.

Spectacular Naval Parade.

On Wednesday forenoon from the vantage point of hill and steamer will be seen the most imposing and spectacular parade in modern naval history, in which a total of forty-nine warships will enter the Golden Gate in single line formation and drop anchor amidst the roar of twelve-inch guns, the shouts of over 700,000 people and the shrieks of steam whistles.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who for the past month has been under treatment at Paso Robles hot springs, has so far recovered that he will re-assume command of the fleet at Santa Cruz, just before sailing for this city. When the fleet arrives off the Golden Gate it will be joined by the Pacific squadron of armored cruisers of the West Virginia type under Rear Admiral Dayton. The flagship Connecticut, flying the flag of Rear Admiral Evans, will lead the procession past lighthouses into the harbor where bay and ocean meet, and on past Land's End and Point Bonita.

The big twelve-inch guns at Fort Baker, on the heights of the rocky Marin county shore, and the big disappearing guns in the batteries crowning the Presidio hills, will bay deep-moutherd welcome, contrary to all army precedent against saluting home vessels. That there may be as much noise and smoke from the guns as possible, black powder will be used instead of smokeless.

Sailors Visit Big Trees.

Santa Cruz, Cal., May 4.—The visit of bluejackets to the big trees was a feature of the programme at Santa Cruz for the entertainment of the Atlantic fleet. More than 3,000 sailors came ashore and boarded special trains for the grove, six miles distant. All the famous trees were visited. In one, named "The Fremont," after General Fremont, seventy-five sailors were crowded into the hollow at its base at one time.

ROYAL WEDDING.

Prince Wilhelm of Sweden Marries Cousin of Russian Czar.

St. Petersburg, May 4.—Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, second son of King Gustave, the popular sailor prince who visited America in 1907, was married to Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, cousin of the emperor of Russia, and daughter of Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch.

The ceremony took place at Tsarskoe Selo and was accompanied by all the pomp and brilliant display of color characteristic of the most stately and pompous court in Europe.

The day was marred by frequent heavy falls of snow, which, however, failed to chill the enthusiasm of the great crowds that gathered around the palace to catch a glimpse of the emperor and other royal personages and the arriving guests. The crowds stood for hours in the bleak and muddy palace square until the conclusion of the ceremony.

In the evening a great state banquet was served, at which toasts were drunk to the good understanding between Sweden and Russia recently reached in the Baltic agreement, to which the wedding—the first in modern times between the ruling houses of two countries—puts the seal.

The beginning of the nuptial ceremonies was announced by the firing of five guns simultaneously by the battery at Tsarskoe Selo and by the fortress at St. Peter and St. Paul in St. Petersburg. This was but the beginning of the noisy acclamation, for the thunder of salutes was heard almost uninterruptedly throughout the afternoon and evening.

TROUBLE IN INDIA.

That Country Is a Source of Uneasiness to Great Britain.

London, May 4.—India is a source of considerable uneasiness to the British government at the present moment. The difficulties with the Mohmands seemed on the eve of settlement when on Saturday, according to reports received here, a new danger threatened. An attempt was made by a large Afghan force, numbering from 13,000 to 20,000, which went across the border, divided into two bodies, two seize the blockhouse of Khyber pass, near Landikhotal. The attacking force was repulsed with trifling casualties among the British, but the Afghans remained in front of Landikhotal and another body is reported to be moving into Bazaar valley by way of Lisote pass.

General Willcox, who is in command of the British forces recently dispatched to quell the troubles, has gone to Jamrud, a few miles west of Peshawar, at the entrance of Khyber pass, and is hastening forward his troops to meet the new development.

All frontier telegrams are carefully censored at Simla. From Calcutta comes the news of the discovery of a plot to murder Europeans by means of bombs. The conspiracy appears to be of an extensive character and many arrests have been made. The responsibility for the plot is placed on the natives, a number of incriminating documents having been seized, together with a supply of bombs and other explosives.

TEN PERSONS PERISH

Disastrous Fire Occurs in an Indiana Hotel.

MANY PEOPLE ARE MISSING

While Thirteen Others Sustain Serious Injuries at Fort Wayne—Building Was Dry as Tinder and Flames Made Rapid Headway.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 4.—Ten known dead, many missing and thirteen seriously injured is the result of a fire that destroyed the New Aveline hotel, Fort Wayne's principal hostelry. Chief of Police Anckenbruck said he believed twenty bodies were still in the ruins.

The hotel register was consumed by the fire and there are no accurate means of determining who is missing. The known dead are:

R. S. Johnson, Pana, Ill.; M. Hirsch, New York; J. B. Miller, Sheboygan, Wis.; J. E. Ellis, Chicago; W. A. Pitcher, Fort Wayne; J. W. Deviney, Philadelphia; three unidentified men. The known missing are Frank Baxter, Aurora, Ind.; R. E. Tribble, Delhart, Tex.; companion of Frank Baxter of Aurora; E. B. Alty, Wabash, Ind.; Charles Benjamin, Detroit; Mrs. Sarah Hathaway, Mishawaka, Ind.; unknown woman, companion of Mrs. Hathaway.

The complete destruction of the interior of the hotel makes the work of recovering bodies a task of difficulty. A confused heap of charred wood, bricks and twisted girders is piled up between the bare walls to the second story. Piece by piece this must be removed before the roll of dead can be completed. Some of the bodies taken out are mangled and charred beyond recognition and the work of identification is in these cases a task almost baffling.

State Troops on Duty.

Infantry Company D and Battery B of the national guard are on duty and aiding the fire and police forces to clear away the debris.

The fire was discovered at 3:30 a. m. in the elevator shaft by Night Clerk Ralph H. Hopkins. He rushed to the upper floors, alarming the guests until flames, which had spread with appalling rapidity, drove him back. His efforts, however, saved many lives. The hotel was erected half a century ago and the woodwork was dry as tinder. It burned like matchwood and within a few minutes from the time fire was discovered the whole interior of the hotel was a mass of flames that filled the corridors and rooms with suffocating clouds of smoke and laid fiery barriers across all means of escape save by the windows.

The fire department rescued many by means of ladders, but some, frenzied by the onward rush of the flames, leaped from high windows to the paved street.

R. S. Johnson of Pana, Ill., jumped from the fifth story. His body struck a balcony and bounded far into the street. He was a crushed and bleeding mass when picked up, and died a short time later in St. Joseph's hospital.

As the fury of the flames increased men and women were seen in the windows of their rooms, where they wildly implored help. Some did not wait for the efforts of the firemen and leaped to the street. Several were seriously injured in this way. Those who got from their rooms before the flames cut off their retreat were able to make their way to the fire escapes and were saved. The flames from the windows curled about the fire escapes. Some of the more hardy ones braved the flames and made their way through smoke and fire down the iron stairways.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE.

Young Polander Shoots and Kills His Sweetheart.

New York, May 4.—Enraged because his long journey across the seas had ended in the refusal of his proposal of marriage, William Sekansky, a young Polander, shot and killed Annie Kecknow, a twenty-year-old Polish girl, in the hallway of a boarding house in Williamsburg and then shot Michael Kirsani, who sought to intercept him in his flight.

Kirsani died later in a hospital. An angry crowd that gave chase to Sekansky made threats of lynching when he was caught, but the officers hurried their man to the police station.

TROUBLE IN EGYPT.

Cairo, Egypt, May 4.—A British subject, Scott Monoreiff, deputy inspector of the Blue Nile province, together with a native official, has been assassinated at the instance of a local sheik, who proclaimed himself prophet, at Mesalamieh, about 150 miles from Khartoum. A small punitive force, led by the governor of the province, was attacked by a murderous band of dervishes. During the fighting the governor was wounded and two native officers were killed.

BRAINERD BUSINESS COLLEGE

Spring Session Begins Monday, May 4

School teachers and high school graduates make arrangements for your course now. You will be ready for business six months or a year earlier if you act at once. Men and women who DO things—who make things happen—are those who know the value of time. Success is no respecter of seasons. For those unprepared, there is ever only one time to start right and that time is NOW. A thorough business training is a safe-guard in time of need; it is a sure asset; it means self support and respectability, and it costs more to do without it than it does to get it. Having ability to render intelligent service in all kinds of business, you may travel all over this broad land and find a market for your time and knowledge. An additional instructor who is an expert penman as well as an all around business educator, begins work in Brainerd, Monday, May 4. A better business college than our Brainerd school is not at present within the borders of the State.

May 8—The Power that Governs.
Soon—"The Burgomaster."

The Power That Governs

In "The Power That Governs," the new play in which Creston Clarke is starring this season, the ability of Jules Murry as a producing manager is clearly shown. The third act of the play shows the palatial library of the suite of apartments in a winter resort hotel in Mexico, occupied by an Eastern multi-millionaire. As this character in the play is said to be fashioned after a well known leader in the money world, so also it is hinted that this scene is an exact reproduction of that gentleman's erstwhile home in the Sierra Madres. Its detailed elaborateness has never been excelled. At opera house May 8th.

The Burgomaster

"Popularity" is surely the sign of "The Burgomaster." Never in the history of this comic opera success has it proved so popular as at the present season. Manufacturers all over the country are recognizing the sterling worth of the word "Burgomaster," and salted peanuts, cigars, whiskey, chocolates, bon bons, neckwear and shoes and kerchiefs are all named after "The Burgomaster." Local manager Hall has secured this musical gem for the near future.

"At the Unique"

The Bemidji Pioneer says of Shaw & Clyfton, dance artists and comedians, who appear at the Unique tonight:

"Shaw and Clyfton, the famous song and dance artists and comedy exponents, have made a hit with Bemidji theatre goers, and are drawing large crowds at the Brinkman Family theatre.

"Manager Brinkman says: 'I have had the largest crowds at the Brinkman Family theatre this week that I have ever had at any performances since I opened the theatre.'

"Shaw & Clyfton are proving themselves genuine comedians, and they hold their audience spellbound with admiration of their acts. Each night the crowd never tires of their performance, which is new and decidedly original, with special features every evening. They are lazy but are always busy on the stage. Every minute of the time spent in their presence is a moment of downright enjoyment and unequalled fun."

with the fixtures, delivery team and part of the stock from Mankato, and the fixtures are being put into the building this afternoon. Mr. Marwick is a pleasant gentleman to meet and will doubtless make friends in Brainerd.

Harry G. Otis, the well known Northern Pacific engineer, who resided here for many years but moved to Carlton a couple of years ago, has been in the city the past few days moving his family onto his farm in section 1, town of Long Lake. Mr. Otis is now running local freight between Ashland and Duluth, but his family will make Long Lake their future home.

P. B. Nettleton reports a narrow escape from a bad fall on South Sixth street the other evening. It was in the dusk and he was walking slowly and came against a wire strung across the sidewalk. He happened to see it and to be moving slowly enough so that he was not thrown, otherwise he might have suffered serious injuries. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police and the boys who did it are pretty well known to them. Unless they want to be arrested they will be wise to cease such dangerous pranks.

Biology and the Panama Canal.

At the recent meeting of the American Association For the Advancement of Science in Chicago attention was called to the interesting fact that the work on the Panama canal is changing biological conditions in Panama and that its completion will enable the fresh water fauna of the Atlantic and Pacific slopes to intermingle. Undoubtedly many marine animals will pass from one ocean to the other, says the Youth's Companion. Men Who Took Express Company's Money Admit Theft.

Laredo, Tex., May 4.—It has been learned that through the activity of the police of Mexico City, the robbers of the $63,000 from the Wells-Fargo Express company are in jail and both men have confessed. They are Luis Cutting, chief clerk in the general offices of the express company, and Rodolfo Alvarez, alias Rodriguez, the express messenger who disappeared in Aguas Calientes.

When first arrested both men denied having had anything to do with the affair, but after several days' confinement incommunicado, Alvarez, or Rodriguez, broke down and confessed. The money was found by the police in Cutting's rooms.

Chicago, May 4.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, addressed 1,400 men and women in mass meeting here, exhorting his hearers to cast off the yoke of party domination and to assert their political independence. DECLARED ITS FIRST DIVIDEND

Park Opera House Association
Held Annual Meeting This Forenoon

OLD OFFICIALS RE-ELECTED

A Dividend of 2 Per Cent, First Ever Declared, was Ordered by Meeting

The stockholders of the Park Opera House Association held their annual meeting today. The election of directors resulted in the re-election of the old board as follows: R. R. Wise, G. W. Holland, H. P. Dunn, R. J. Hartley, Geo. D. LaBar.

Immediately following the stockholders' meeting the board of directors met and re-elected all the old officers, as follows:

President—R. R. Wise.
Vice Pres.—Geo. W. Holland.
Treasurer—H. P. Dunn.
Secretary—Geo. D. LaBar.

The meeting today declared a dividend of two per cent on the capital stock. This is the first dividend that has ever been declared by the association. When the gentlemen organized it about seven years ago they went into it as a matter of public spirit rather than from expectation of pecuniary return and their expectations have not been miscarried. This two per cent is all the interest they have so far received, all earnings being used to pay an indebtedness on the structure.

How to Avoid Appendicitis

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. H. P. Dunn. mwfdw

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The cue rouge tournament at the association rooms closed Saturday evening leaving Mr. Keating champion of the association. He beat McMeekins two straight in the semi-finals for the senior championship, and in the finals beat White three out of four. He and Ahrens, champion of the juniors, then played for the championship of the association and Keating won three out of four games.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening for the election of directors and the annual meeting of the board of directors will be held Wednesday evening. The advertising club will meet Tuesday evening.

An Insidious Danger

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. H. P. Dunn. mwfdw

Base Ball Notes

The East Brainerd base ball team is proving a fast one. It defeated the Northern Pacific office team Sunday morning in a closely contested game, winning with a score of 13 to 11, although at times the railroad company's pencil pushers had them worried. In the afternoon the same team defeated the North Star Juniors by a score of 12 to 11, the East Brainerd team not going to bat in the last inning. These are the first games they have played and they certainly are making a good start.

The Y. M. C. A. base ball team will meet this evening for the election of a captain and manager. They are practicing hard and are going to try vigorously for the championship of the city league.

The church league last season was a league principally in name, many of the players playing every evening with a different team. The clubs in the city teams, however, are practicing team work much more than last year and some fast playing is predicted.

TWO CHURCHES HOLD REVIVALS

Rev. McKinley, of Minneapolis,
Held Meetings in the First Baptist Church

FIRST M. E. CHURCH MEETINGS

Delivered Two Sermons and Spoke at Y. M. C. A.

If the two services yesterday at the Baptist church were fair samples of Evangelist McKinley's work, great good is sure to result from the meetings. Both sermons were timely earnest messages on vital Christian experience and character, finely adapted to all classes. In the morning he spoke on "Revivals" emphasizing from scripture the meaning, need, source, etc., of spiritual quickening. In the final analysis, all spiritual life and blessing come from God. He alone can impart to willing hearts the rich treasure of His grace.

The evening discourse was a call to men to respond to the many voices of God, which speak to them in many ways urging them on to live on the higher plane of life. It was a call to greater devotion, service, action. The discourses were replete with apt illustrations and scripture truth. The close attention by the congregation evinced the deep interest felt. During the past five or six months Mr. McKinley has conducted successful meetings at Long Prairie, Little Falls, Frazer, Parkers Prairie and St. Cloud. With his pleasing earnest manner and devout spirit he will be sure to meet with a hearty welcome in Brainerd.

With simultaneous meetings at the Methodist and Baptist churches under the lead of men like Daniel and McKinley the city should and doubtless will receive a revival and religious uplift.

Mr. McKinley's subject for this evening will be "Three New Things for You."

As Mr. McKinley not only preaches but sings you are assured of a helpful, profitable service. Service begins at 7:45.

The three audiences that listened to the stirring addresses of Rev. John Daniels, the "Blacksmith Evangelist," now holding a series of meetings at the First Methodist Episcopal church, will remember for a long time some of the pungent epigrams, pointed illustrations, wit, humor and pathos, which fell from his lips yesterday in the sermons he preached. At the morning service he spoke on "Liberty" confining his thought to the Christian disciple who endeavors to live a good life untrammelled with the ways and doings of the world which so often mar the influence and undermine the peace of the heart. In the afternoon service at the Y. M. C. A. he addressed as large a company of men as had been gathered there for a long time on "Forbidden Fruit." His address was a plea for a clean life, and his scathing utterances against profanity, vulgarity, lasciviousness, gambling, will not readily be forgotten by the men of all ages who composed the audience. As was expected the crowd last evening at the Methodist church made standing room a premium where he preached on "Turned Inside Out." His sermon dealt largely with the tremendous change that conversion makes in a man's life. The principal thoughts of the sermon had largely to do with his own experience which made the address doubly eloquent and impressive. At 7:45 he will speak on "The Taming of a Man," tonight. All are invited. Services every night during the week.

The parties to the above contract are known to all our citizens. Bubonic Plague at Guayaquil.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, May 4.—There have been forty-eight new cases of bubonic plague in this city since April 22. During the month of April there were 130 deaths from bubonic plague, and sixteen deaths from yellow fever.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Park Opera House Association
Held Annual Meeting This Forenoon

OLD OFFICIALS RE-ELECTED

A Dividend of 2 Per Cent, First Ever Declared, was Ordered by Meeting

The stockholders of the Park Opera House Association held their annual meeting today. The election of directors resulted in the re-election of the old board as follows: R. R. Wise, G. W. Holland, H. P. Dunn, R. J. Hartley, Geo. D. LaBar.

Immediately following the stockholders' meeting the board of directors met and re-elected all the old officers, as follows:

President—R. R. Wise.
Vice Pres.—Geo. W. Holland.
Treasurer—H. P. Dunn.
Secretary—Geo. D. LaBar.

The meeting today declared a dividend of two per cent on the capital stock. This is the first dividend that has ever been declared by the association. This two per cent is all the interest they have so far received, all earnings being used to pay an indebtedness on the structure.

Bubonic Plague at Guayaquil.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, May 4.—There have been forty-eight new cases of bubonic plague in this city since April 22. During the month of April there were 130 deaths from bubonic plague, and sixteen deaths from yellow fever.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

Condition of Former President Grover Cleveland.

Lakewood, N. J., May 4.—The condition of former President Grover Cleveland, who is said by his physicians to be suffering from acute indigestion, continues to show daily improvement, according to Mrs. Cleveland, who expresses the hope that the progress of her husband's recovery may permit an early return to Princeton. The patient spent a quiet Sunday at the Lakewood hotel and Mr. Cleveland expressed himself as pleased with the progress made.

Mrs. Cleveland said: "I have given two or three statements about Mr. Cleveland's health through the Associated Press. What I have said each time still holds, and there continues to be daily improvement in his condition. I am glad to repeat this."

Mrs. Cleveland is keenly cognizant of the deep interest that the public holds in the state of Mr. Cleveland's health and she stated that if any change developed in the condition of Mr. Cleveland it would be made public. Some of the reports concerning the excitement of the former president have not been altogether pleasing to Mrs. Cleveland, who is anticipating an early return to their home in Princeton.

It was stated authoritatively that reports that Mr. Cleveland is suffering from cancer are unfounded. The fact that Mr. Cleveland has remained at the Lakewood hotel after it had been closed for the season is not surprising to Mr. Cleveland's friends when it is considered that in the past after similar attacks it has required a few weeks each time for the former president to recover.

INTEREST IN THAW CASE

Will Be Revived by Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 4.—Public interest in the case of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, will be revived this week when Thaw will endeavor by habeas corpus proceedings to secure his release from the Matteawan hospital for insane criminals.

The writ of habeas corpus is returnable before Justice Morschauer in the supreme court in this city. The writ was issued by Judge Morschauer at White Plains on April 22, on the application of James G. Graham, an attorney of Newburgh.

District Attorney Jerome of New York county will oppose the proceedings and try to prevent the discharge of Thaw, who he believes is insane.

The first step in the court proceedings will be a motion by Mr. Jerome to have the trial transferred to New York county. Thaw will be brought to Poughkeepsie by Dr. Baker, acting superintendent of the institution, and two attendants.

Dr. Baker will testify that Mr. Thaw is not mentally fit to be given his liberty. Other insanity experts who have examined Thaw will be put on the stand by District Attorney Jerome.

Among the experts retained by Thaw's attorney to testify as to his mental condition are Dr. Charles Pilgrim, superintendent of the Hudson River state hospital, and Dr. Charles H. Lane of Poughkeepsie.

Neither Thaw's wife nor his mother has visited him in two months. During the three months he has been at Matteawan he has gained twenty pounds.

Strike Is Delayed.

Cleveland, O., May 4.—The impending strike of the conductors and motormen on the local street railway lines was set back at least twenty-four hours as a result of recent developments, which brought forth negotiations for arbitration. Until there is a break in this plan no strike order will be issued.

FLOWER DAY FOR THE FLEET.

FLORAL GEMS FILLED THE AIR

Sailors of Atlantic Warship Fleet Battle With Blossoms After the Procession—Admiral Thomas Worsted. Jack's Feet Never Touch Ground.

If Admiral Evans could have been in Santa Barbara the other day he undoubtedly would have congratulated the California city for "the handsome way she did the trick." Her floral festival captured the Atlantic battleship fleet. The boys surrendered. The show was all that its managers wanted it to be. It was artistic, delicate and entirely devoid of the spirit of commercialism that has thrust itself to the front in Santa Barbara and other places that the fleet has visited on the Pacific coast.

The setting for the show was along a palm lined avenue fronting on the ocean. On the land side there was one complete line of grand stands a quarter of a mile long, says a Santa Barbara correspondent of the New York Sun. Poles with banners and garlands depending from them were erected back of the stands. A bridge of green with interspersed flowers screened the front of the stands. On the other side of the boulevard the populace who had no seat tickets stood.

At the far western end of the drive was erected a circular tribune for Rear Admiral Thomas and his officers. The parade circled in front of them. Every person who had a seat along the boulevard seemed to bring a basket of flowers. Nearly every one was dressed in white.

Shortly before 3 o'clock Admiral Thomas was driven down the line of people in a gorgeous coach of white carnations and roses. A blue admiral's flag with two white stars depended from the back. Four white horses in yellow floral harness drew the coach. Six outriders heralded the way. The admiral was received with tremendous cheering. Admirals Sperry and Emory followed in bowers of violet sweet peas drawn on wheels. The admirals and captains took seats under a gorgeous red canopy.

Then came the parade. Twenty girls in Spanish dress came down the highway scattering petals for the sailors to tread on. About a thousand sailors followed. They were entirely in white. They wore no belts. Flowers of all kinds were protruding from the muzzles of their rifles. As they marched by Admiral Thomas he stood at attention and saluted each detachment that each ship sent—sixty-four in all.

The line of march was policed at intervals by marines. The sailors counter-marched on the boulevard and then stood at rest along the entire length of the ocean side of the boulevard. After the sailors had taken their stations horsemen with floral lances topped with American flags took places at intervals of about 100 feet. The picture was then complete, and the real show was on.

A company of marching girls in blue headed the floral part of the procession. Then came Grand Army men (great cheers for them), schoolboy zouaves, riders in colonial dress, then horses blanketed with blankets of roses, lilies and sweet peas. Stirrups and horse collars were also of flowers.

Then came a company of girls in Spanish costumes, with flowers for the officers to repel boarders. They were called "powder monkeys." Miss Josefa de la Guerra, great-granddaughter of the first Spanish grandee to rule in the United States, dressed as Carmen, advanced to Admiral Thomas and presented him with floral ammunition, and her company of "powder monkeys" stood at salute. Admiral Thomas is a notably gallant man. He never played the graceful militant figure more to perfection than when he saluted those girls.

Then came a company of matrons, the Woman's Relief corps, carrying floral parasols of red, white and blue. They got seats near the admiral, where they grouped themselves to resemble a human flag. Then came a shower bouquet made up entirely of marching children almost smothered with flowers.

More knights and fair ladies followed, and a little tot of three years, dressed in pink and riding a white horse, captured the plaudits of the crowd by the nonchalance she displayed. Admiral Thomas took off his cap to her. She was Gertrude Arms. Then came the carriages. They were simply moving masses of flowers. The women inside the bowers were dressed to match the flowers. Scores of women drove their own rigs and gave pretty exhibitions of skill as they made their animals prance and dance.

Automobiles followed. The first held two boys dressed as red devils, and the machine had satanic emblems galore on it, all in flowers. Then came an auto turned into a battleship, with men peering out of a conning tower. A great horn of plenty followed. One auto was made up to resemble a war canoe.

An effective float was a representation of the famous Santa Barbara mission in flowers. Twelve students from St. Anthony's college and dressed in the original gray costume of the Franciscans marched on either side of the float and sang a Gregorian chant as they walked.

Another float held the beauty of the Santa Barbara high school. She was dressed as Unkova. Then came the float of the native sons and daughters. The girls were in white and wore yellow sashes. On their float was a tremendous brown California bear, very dead and stuffed. The float was decorated with genista flowers.

A stagecoach dressed in white mustard rumbled past next. Then came a farm wagon representing a load of hay all made up of flowers. Beneath the body of the wagon great crates of oranges swung. At the rear were crates containing chickens and ducks. When this float stopped in front of Admiral Thomas half a dozen white doves were released from a mound of flowers.

So the parade passed along with companies of garlanded boys and girls, groups of horsemen in all sorts of beautiful costumes, carriages and carts, some of the latter even being drawn by dogs; automobiles and floats, all being moving masses of flowers of every description with which this choice spot of Uncle Sam's realm is fairly burdened. And all this was in a setting of ocean front, with garlanded stands and Jack tars, all captured by the golden flora, to give color to the scene.

The procession made one complete turn of the boulevard and then came back for the battle of flowers. It was not boisterous, but for hundreds of yards the air was filled with flowers. You could scarcely see the sky. The thousands of baskets on the stands were emptied. The heaps in the various vehicles and in the baskets that the horsemen carried went flying through the air.

Every one was hit, and every one hit somebody else. Admiral Thomas was pelted until he threw up his hands. His powder monkeys supplied him with ammunition fast enough. He said the hoists were all right, but his arms gave out and his turret went out of commission. One by one his captains and other officers capitulated.

Then Miss Ynez Dibble, the Spanish dancer who was the queen of the parade, got into the admiral's coach and drove away, laughing, while the throng applauded. Uncle Sam's tars can fight with real guns and projectiles. When it comes to flowers they are helpless, especially when the friendly enemy consists of thousands of pretty women and girls.

After it was all over the sailors marched down a highway strewn with flowers. You couldn't see the ground. A boy's mate summed it up: "Gee, this walking on flowers beats getting married. This beats 'em all. I'm ready to sing 'No Wedding Bells For Me.' This is good enough in the flower line."

And at night Jack was roaming through the streets, his arms laden with flowers and his voice uplifted in shouts and songs. The prevailing cry was "Rah for California!"

The spirit of the entire day was expressed by a bluejacket who said to his mates when he got back aboard ship, "My head was in the air, and, honest, boys, my feet never touched the ground."

FIRE IN A TENEMENT

Causes the Death of Six Persons in Brooklyn.

ENTIRE FAMILY WIPED OUT

Mother and Her Four Children Are Numbered Among the Dead—Many Saved Their Lives by Jumping into the Life Nets.

New York, May 4.—An early morning fire in a four-story brick tenement at No. 17 Humboldt street, a thickly populated district of Brooklyn, caused the death of six persons and the serious injury of four others.

Every member of one family, consisting of a mother and four children, are among the dead. There were many thrilling rescues by police and firemen. A half dozen or more persons who were trapped in the upper stories were saved by jumping into life nets. The dead are:

Mrs. Dora Abrams, and Sadie, Carrie, Anna and Charles Abrams, and Mrs. Jennie Cohen.

The fire started in the cellar of the building when the people comprising the eight families living in the house were asleep. It had gained much headway before it was discovered. When the firemen came the fire had spread through the entire rear of the house, where the fire escapes were, and the terror-stricken inmates of the upper floors had been driven to the front rooms, where they were hanging from windows shrieking for help. Ladders and life nets were quickly brought into use and most of the imperiled persons were thus rescued.

The Abrams family lived on the third floor. For some reason the flames swept through their apartments so that the only way of escape was by jumping from the windows. Charles Abrams and his sister Anna did this. Both struck an iron railing and were dead when picked up. Mrs. Abrams and her other children, Sadie and Carrie, were burned to death, clasped in each others' arms.

TROUBLE IN PERU.

President Pardo Sends Troops Out After Insurgents.

Lima, Peru, May 4.—Government troops have been sent out by President Pardo on the receipt of reports here that an insurrection was brewing not far from this city. Alarm was felt in government circles when it was rumored that the insurgent leader, Dr. Durand, with 200 of his men, attempted to cut the wires of the electric lighting plant which supplied the current for the lighting of Lima and the suburbs. If an attempt was made, it was not successful, and the troops have not yet succeeded in tracing Durand.

President Pardo sent additional troops out in search of the alleged insurgents. A number of arrests were made in the city of persons suspected of complicity in the movement, but Lima itself presents no unusual aspect, and the idea of any extensive movement looking to a revolution is not generally believed.

Third Fatality as Result of Dynamiting of a Train.

Butte, Mont., May 4.—George Ehle, fireman of the Burlington Overland Limited, the train which was dynamited by bandits Friday near this city, is dead. This makes the third fatality of the wreck.

At the sheriff's office it was said that the authorities had obtained no clew as yet which might aid in tracing the men involved in the plot to blow up the train.

Will Spend Money on Sailors.

Melbourne, Australia, May 4.—Referring to the visit of the American fleet to the Australian ports, Sir William J. Lyne, minister of trade and customs, who is treasurer of the reception fund, said that the bulk of the expenditure would be on the sailors. "We are determined," he said, "that they must leave with a good impression."

Not Guilty Because of Insanity.

Bloomington, Ind., May 4.—The jury in the Harvey Hinkle murder case returned a verdict that the defendant was not guilty on the ground of insanity. On the night of Aug. 8, 1907, Hinkle shot and killed John R. McClintock as the latter was escorting home a young woman to whom Hinkle had been attentive.

Poles with banners and garlands depending from them were erected back of the stands. A bridge of green with interspersed flowers screened the front of the stands. On the other side of the boulevard the populace who had no seat tickets stood.

At the far western end of the drive was erected a circular tribune for Rear Admiral Thomas and his officers. The parade circled in front of them. Every person who had a seat along the boulevard seemed to bring a basket of flowers. Nearly every one was dressed in white.

Shortly before 3 o'clock Admiral Thomas was driven down the line of people in a gorgeous coach of white carnations and roses. A blue admiral's flag with two white stars depended from the back. Four white horses in yellow floral harness drew the coach. Six outriders heralded the way. The admiral was received with tremendous cheering. Admirals Sperry and Emory followed in bowers of violet sweet peas drawn on wheels. The admirals and captains took seats under a gorgeous red canopy.

Then came the parade. Twenty girls in Spanish dress came down the highway scattering petals for the sailors to tread on. About a thousand sailors followed. They were entirely in white. They wore no belts. Flowers of all kinds were protruding from the muzzles of their rifles. As they marched by Admiral Thomas he stood at attention and saluted each detachment that each ship sent—sixty-four in all.

The line of march was policed at intervals by marines. The sailors counter-marched up the boulevard and then stood at rest along the entire length of the ocean side of the boulevard. After the sailors had taken their stations horsemen with floral lances topped with American flags took places at intervals of about 100 feet. The picture was then complete, and the real show was on.

A company of marching girls in blue headed the floral part of the procession. Then came Grand Army men (great cheerers for them), schoolboy zouaves, riders in colonial dress, then horses blanketed with blankets of roses, lilies and sweet peas. Stirrups and horse collars were also of flowers.

Then came a company of girls in Spanish costumes, with flowers for the officers to repel boarders. They were called "powder monkeys." Miss Josefa de la Guerra, great-granddaughter of the first Spanish grandee to rule in the United States, dressed as Carmen, advanced to Admiral Thomas and presented him with floral ammunition, and her company of "powder monkeys" stood at salute. Admiral Thomas is a notably gallant man. He never played the graceful militant figure more to perfection than when he saluted those girls.

Then came a company of matrons, the Woman's Relief corps, carrying floral parasols of red, white and blue. They got seats near the admiral, where they grouped themselves to resemble a human flag. Then came a shower bouquet made up entirely of marching children almost smothered with flowers.

More knights and fair ladies followed, and a little tot of three years, dressed in pink and riding a white horse, captured the plaudits of the crowd by the nonchalance she displayed. Admiral Thomas took off his cap to her. She was Gertrude Arms. Then came the carriages. They were simply moving masses of flowers. The women inside the bowers were dressed to match the flowers. Scores of women drove their own rigs and gave pretty exhibitions of skill as they made their animals prance and dance.

Automobiles followed. The first held two boys dressed as red devils, and the machine had satanic emblems galore on it, all in flowers. Then came an auto turned into a battleship, with men peering out of a conning tower. A great horn of plenty followed. One auto was made up to resemble a war canoe.

An effective float was a representation of the famous Santa Barbara mission in flowers. Twelve students from St. Anthony's college and dressed in the original gray costume of the Franciscans marched on either side of the float and sang a Gregorian chant as they walked.

Another float held the beauty of the Santa Barbara high school. She was dressed as Unicorna. Then came the float of the native sons and daughters. The girls were in white and wore yellow sashes. On their float was a tremendous brown California bear, very dead and stuffed. The float was decorated with genista flowers.

A stagecoach dressed in white mustard rumbled past next. Then came a farm wagon representing a load of hay all made up of flowers. Beneath the body of the wagon great crates of oranges swung. At the rear were crates containing chickens and ducks. When this float stopped in front of Admiral Thomas half a dozen white doves were released from a mound of flowers.

So the parade passed along with companies of garlanded boys and girls, groups of horsemen in all sorts of beautiful costumes, carriages and carts, some of the latter even being drawn by dogs; automobiles and floats, all being moving masses of flowers of every description with which this choice spot of Uncle Sam's realm is fairly burdened. And all this was in a setting of ocean front, with garlanded stands and Jack tars, all captured by the golden flora, to give color to the scene.

The procession made one complete turn of the boulevard and then came back for the battle of flowers. It was not boisterous, but for hundreds of yards the air was filled with flowers. You could scarcely see the sky. The thousands of baskets on the stands were emptied. The heaps in the various vehicles and in the baskets that the horsemen carried went flying through the air.

Every one was hit, and every one hit somebody else. Admiral Thomas was pelted until he threw up his hands. His powder monkeys supplied him with ammunition fast enough. He said the hoists were all right, but his arms gave out and his turret went out of commission. One by one his captains and other officers capitulated.

Then Miss Ynez Dibblee, the Spanish dancer who was the queen of the parade, got into the admiral's coach and drove away, laughing, while the throng applauded. Uncle Sam's tars can fight with real guns and projectiles. When it comes to flowers they are helpless, especially when the friendly enemy consists of thousands of pretty women and girls.

After it was all over the sailors marched down a highway strewn with flowers. You couldn't see the ground. A bos'n's mate summed it up: "Gee, this walking on flowers beats getting married. This beats 'em all. I'm ready to sing 'No Wedding Bells For Me.' This is good enough in the flower line."

And at night Jack was roaming through the streets, his arms laden with flowers and his voice uplifted in shouts and songs. The prevailing cry was "Rah for California!"

The spirit of the entire day was expressed by a bluejacket who said to his mates when he got back aboard ship, "My head was in the air, and, honest, boys, my feet never touched the ground."

FIRE IN A TENEMENT

Causes the Death of Six Persons in Brooklyn.

ENTIRE FAMILY WIPED OUT

Mother and Her Four Children Are Numbered Among the Dead—Many Saved Their Lives by Jumping Into the Life Nets.

New York, May 4.—An early morning fire in a four-story brick tenement at No. 17 Humboldt street, a thickly populated district of Brooklyn, caused the death of six persons and the serious injury of four others.

Every member of one family, consisting of a mother and four children, are among the dead. There were many thrilling rescues by police and firemen. A half dozen or more persons who were trapped in the upper stories were saved by jumping into life nets. The dead are:

Mrs. Dora Abrams, and Sadie, Carrie, Anna and Charles Abrams, and Mrs. Jennie Cohen.

The fire started in the cellar of the building when the people comprising the eight families living in the house were asleep. It had gained much headway before it was discovered. When the firemen came the fire had spread through the entire rear of the house, where the fire escapes were, and the terror-stricken inmates of the upper floors had been driven to the front rooms, where they were hanging from windows shrieking for help. Ladders and life nets were quickly brought into use and most of the imperiled persons were thus rescued.

The Abrams family lived on the third floor. For some reason the flames swept through their apartments so that the only way of escape was by jumping from the windows. Charles Abrams and his sister Anna did this. Both struck an iron railing and were dead when picked up. Mrs. Abrams and her other children, Sadie and Carrie, were burned to death, clasped in each others' arms.

TROUBLE IN PERU.

President Pardo Sends Troops Out After Insurgents.

Lima, Peru, May 4.—Government troops have been sent out by President Pardo on the receipt of reports here that an insurrection was brewing not far from this city. Alarm was felt in government circles when it was rumored that the insurgent leader, Dr. Durand, with 200 of his men, attempted to cut the wires of the electric lighting plant which supplied the current for the lighting of Lima and the suburbs. If an attempt was made, it was not successful, and the troops have not yet succeeded in tracing Durand.

President Pardo sent additional troops out in search of the alleged insurgents. A number of arrests were made in the city of persons suspected of complicity in the movement, but Lima itself presents no unusual aspect, and the idea of any extensive movement looking to a revolution is not generally believed.
